The journey of Cthulhu's Warriors

Long ago there were 3 brothers called Jack, Harry, and Tyler who were marine biologists. It was a typical summer night when they were called to their shift. Little did they know where they were going...

The boys were all together in the local park when they received a message from their dad: "Get to the dock RIGHT NOW you won't believe what I've caught. It is big enough to feed the entire village!"

They got on their bikes and urgently dashed down the hill, screaming loud enough to break glass, "We're going to be rich; we can buy whatever we want", they chanted. When they reached the dock, they threw their bikes, and then ran as fast as possible towards the docks. Harry ran so fast he fell over and cut his knee but that didn't stop them.

It was gargantuan. Maybe even record-breaking, a 7.5-meter angler fish! However, this caused more questions than a celebration for the boys. The largest angler fish ever found and recorded was 1.2 meters. "So where on Earth did you find this fish?" questioned Tyler.

"I found it just south of here at Point Nemo" exclaimed the dad still with a smile.

"Dad, haven't you heard about what happened there on the news? Nuclear tests had taken place last week and the docks was their dumping ground. The radiation mutated most of the animals and caused the largest tsunami on record. It wiped out 3 near cities and obliterating the near once flourished landscape".

But the dad did not listen. All he cared about was making money, so he said, "Let's go back and get some more money by selling these, this one alone is probably worth millions!"

On the way there were ominous sounds and huge waves. Upon reaching the centre, they looked below the boat. To their horror there was a 120 ft long megalodon, a huge whale shark and many other alien creatures. Tyler looked over the rail of the boat and a wormhole started to form, it was hundreds of feet long and started to spin at rapid speeds, throwing the boat off course and bringing it into the wormhole. Luckily, they were already wearing divers' equipment so when they fell in, they could breathe, but all they could do was watch.

When they had sunk to the bottom of the sea there was an ancient city. As they ventured in, it was slimy, eerie and gloomy. After reaching a cathedral, they started to feel light-headed. The continued farther until they saw gleaming red eyes and then they realized they were the eyes of the great beast, Cthulhu.

Cthulhu took the shape of a human, walked over to them and said in low pitched voice, "I choose you to be my champions, the ones who will fight to the bitter end and just by looking at you I see great potential! Now flee before I change my mind because there are many more who could replace you but before you go, all I need you to do is climb to the top of mount Everest, you will see a huge hole engraved of the side, shout the words: 'We are Cthulhu's champions, and we challenge you to a fight to the death!' Now leave before I become my true form and you all die".

After the family had received this information they swam as fast as they could to the surface and then they heard that same dreaded voice in their heads: "Before you fight my nemesis you must defeat his 4 champions, they go by the names of Juggernaut, Death Angel, Parallax, and Night Stalker. His chosen champion is Death Angel which makes him the most powerful, and I choose Jack to be my champion. You may be the weakest now but by the end of my training you will be the strongest. The first warrior you will have to face is Parallax but first, you must endure my training and that means that for all of you, not just Jack, it will be painful and will be a test of your mind to prepare to go way beyond your limits and reach a new level of power beyond ever possible...

National Dress Day

On National Dress Day March 6, we celebrate the most versatile and fun article of clothing — the dress! Fashion designer Ashley Lauren founded the day to help pay homage to dresses and the magical moments that happen when we wear them.

The day was founded to remember all the dresses in our lives. Take the opportunity to look through your closet and old photos and remember the dresses you wore on your most memorable occasions.

Why do we love national dress day?

Is there anything more comfortable to wear than a dress? The answer is no, you must look no further than at fashion throughout history and around the world to be assured that dresses are the best! Men, women, and children wear all different types of dresses.

There are so many kinds of dresses that there is one for every occasion!

There are dresses for sleeping, dresses for lounging around the house, dresses for playing sports in, dresses for work, dresses for play, and of course, dresses for the most special occasions in our lives, like prom dresses, wedding dresses, and red-carpet dresses.

What can we do to celebrate?

To celebrate this occasion, we can donate dresses to charity shops so that those that can't afford them can buy the dresses and celebrate and enjoy them just as much as we do. We can also dress up in fancy dresses and have fun.

Leeds united finding a new manager!

Leeds United is currently placed in the last three places of the EPL (English premier league) and second place down in the relegation zone. This means by the 23/24 premier league season if they stay in the 3 lowest areas, they will be demoted down to the EFL championship.

But fear not Leeds fans! Jesse Marsch, the previous manager, has left being replaced with Javi Gracia! Moving from the EFL championship team of Watford. He is hoping to improve Leeds united to "Leed" Leeds united out of the relegation zone.

What am I?

Protect the cats

I love cats as pets, and seeing them abused, abandoned and uncared for is heartbreaking, so I want to help cats across the UK make sure they are in a home with a loving family.

What charities are the best to take cats to?

Charities such as the RSPCA and Cats Protection are the best charities in my opinion. But other charities such as Gables Farm and Lonely Pawz can be good too.

Adopt a cat today!

Here is a list of cats and kittens you can adopt today (provided by Cats Protection):

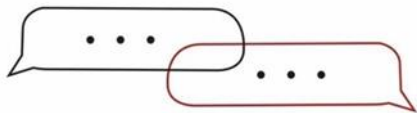

Boo is a sweet and lovely 12-year-old, who is looking for a quieter home than she has come from, as she wasn't showing her true self. Since being away from the other cats and kids, she has started showing us here at the center, that although on the shy side, she is very much liking the fuss and attention now, and often she will be found snuggling under her favorite fleecy blanket in the top of her fort! In a quiet home, she is going to keep on gaining confidence and really start showing her new family who she is.

Luna is a 1-year-old beauty who has come back into our care. She is a friendly and loving cat, who wants the sole attention of her family, so therefore needs to be the only animal in the home, also preferring an adult only home. She enjoys a fuss and playing with small toys when she wants to, and a potter around the garden. Luna is eager to greet her human friends in her pen and once settled will be a wonderful addition to the family.

So why don't you adopt a cat today and help protect them?

IF MY PET WERE A PERSON

Myya:

My dog is called Ellie; she is a 7-month-old border collie pup. She is light brown and white; her brown sits in such a way, that it looks like she is wearing it. If she were a human, she would, probably be a very mischievous little toddler as she is SO cute but cheeky as well (she loves chewing things up!).

Macy:

My dog is called Maggy; she is a 2-year-old golden retriever cross spaniel cross Labrador. If she were a human, she would, be a very playful, bouncy, bubbly girl because she is young and very fun; she can be a bit cheeky sometimes because she likes to chew things up.

Keira:

My dog is called Buddy; he is a 5-year-old black Labrador. If he were a human, he would have a brain the size of a pea and doesn't even use it if he tried. He would be about 35 years old, and EXTREMELY energetic! He too, can be a bit cheeky as he loves to rip things up and loves to eat socks!

Caleb:

My dog is called Sherlock; he is a 1-year-old Dachshund. If he were a human, he would be very clever because he knows how to get treats from his mum. He is exceptionally loud, and loves to bark.

Isobel:

My dog is called Blossom; she is a 5-year-old Cocker spaniel. If she were a human, she would be the dimmest person ever in the whole world! Weirdly, she would still be friends with everyone because she is SO friendly!

Daisy:

My dogs are called Duke and Lucy; Lucy is 1 and Duke is 11, they are both Jack Russels. If she were human, Lucy would be very excitable and VERY cheeky! Duke, on the other hand, would be very calm and subdued.

Ella:

My dog is called Clara; she is an 8-year-old labradoodle. If she were a human, she would be very bubbly and bouncy because that's exactly what she is like as a dog. She is cheeky as well because she knows how to get around us and how to get us to give her treats.

Holly:

My dogs are called Poppy and Molly; Poppy is 2 and Molly is 11 and they are both black Labradors.

If Poppy were a human, she would be very loud and always eating and VERY fast. However, Molly would be a bit lazy and would always be sleeping as she is a bit old now.

A Message from the School

It has been an interesting few weeks across the country in schools, with some behaviour in local schools getting out of hand. As I write this, I am reflecting on the calm, mature and engaged way that our school community has approach concerns that you as students have had. I have been incredibly impressed by you, on Wednesday night the student council fed back to the senior team the issues that you had raised through, sensible and mature conversations, over the course of the next few weeks there will be some adaptations that we talk to you about through assemblies and tutor periods. I have been really proud of the way that you have responded.

The next couple of weeks of term are packed with performances, events and visitors to the school, today we had a number of visitors in talking to year nine about careers and routes that they had taken – all of them spoke highly of your engagement and interest. However, what stands out to me and to them, is the respectful, polite and mature manner in which the year nine engaged.

I truly believe that the way you approach others, the respect that you show them is a measure of who you are – anyone can treat someone poorly, people of character will always treat people with respect. You demonstrate that character every time you meet external visitors, and you should be as proud of yourselves as we are of you.
